"What a breakthrough, combining high-tech with high touch. I have worked in the field of stress management for decades, I wrote a book and I teach a course at a university on stress management. I am blown away about the appeal and effectiveness of the emWave® device... I plan on using the emWave device to help clients ease their way out of everyday stress."

-- Dr. Ron Rubenzer, Author: How the Best Handle Stress

"Using the emWave Personal Stress Reliever has enabled me to recognize the effects of stress on my body at any given time, which then allows me to use the HeartMath techniques to immediately help relieve this stress position... My recent tournament performances in Germany and Holland were helped by the use of HeartMath... emWave can recognize stress levels not otherwise detectable."

-- Ian Woosnam, 2006 European Ryder Cup Captain and 1991 Masters winner

"The emWave Personal Stress Reliever is great. I have used it before every speech I have done since I got it. Some days are better than others but for the most part it has brought my anxiety level down and made me focus more on the subject than my feelings about the crowd. I gave one of them to my son who has difficulties with tests at school. It has helped him to do better with the tests and from his teachers perspective he seems calmer when he takes them."
